

BOAT ELECTRICAL LEADS

www.clipartof.com · 1225723

Boats owners will have noticed that their electrical leads have been secured at the power outlet post and at points along their length.

Members who remove their electrical lead from the jetty are asked to ensure that they immediately secure any other electrical leads that were held by the same ties and secure their own electrical lead when they reconnect their boat to the electricity.

Electrical leads are to be secured without wrapping them around posts or jetty structures, are not to be draped across jetties or finger jetties so that they are not a tripping hazard and also so that they do not droop into the water at any time.
