

From the General Committee

Staff movements

Phil Smith, the Club's General Manager, has resigned and will finish up with the Club on the 8th November - after the Melbourne Cup lunch. Richard Teuchert has been appointed to this position for an initial period of three months and has commenced a handover with Phil.

We were fortunate to get someone in the timeframe to help us through the changes. Please feel free to make yourselves known to him.

Chef, Ash Cullen, has also resigned from the Club and finishes with the Club this week.

We thank these departing staff for their contributions to the Club.

Club management asks members to be considerate of all of our staff and treat them with respect and courtesy. Darren Chatfield will be directing our new GM and overseeing the Club's office and hospitality functions.

Watch future editions of Midstream for more news from your committee.
